Injuries and near miss incidents due to falling trees

| 2002–2025

Sources

Information has been obtained from the internet news sources, particularly BBC News and other local media websites, as well as forestry and arboricultural websites. Whilst links were provided to relevant news items from 2008 onwards, those links may have become redundant and may cease to work over time. There is a separate document for fatal accidents.

Investigations

The few incidents known to have resulted in investigation and/or enforcement action by HSE or local authorities are shaded. Inevitably, there will be some omissions and incorrect information – the data is dependent on the accuracy of what appears in the press and online.
